Sub: Formation of Panel in cases where different selections are held simultaneously for the same feeder categories.

Certain Railways have reported that where different selections are held simultaneously and the feeder categories for such selections are the same or overlap, the staff have the option to appear in all or any one of the selections as per their choice. In such cases, it is difficult to ascertain in advance the category of post to which a particular staff member would ultimately opt for promotion. This may lead to a situation where shortfall in panels occur as the same employees may be selected for multiple categories.

2. Railway Board has examined the matter and it has been decided that in such cases, the provisions of Para-228 of IREM-I may be applied. Accordingly, wherever necessary, amendments in the panel may be carried out at the Railway level in terms of Para-219(L) of IREM-I.
